Give each participant either a blue slip or a yellow slip. Each blue slip matches a yellow slip. Participants find the person who is holding the matching slip. Copy onto a blue sheet of paper and cut up:

| BLUE SLIPS   |  |
|--|--|
| These are posted in every classroom  |  |
| A student's "due process"  |  |
| These are fair, reasonable, predictable, and enforceable                         |  |
| This is a time for students to self-assess                                       |  |
| This takes away from learning time.  |  |
| Each point period begins with this number of points                              |  |
| A person's belief that they have control over the consequences of their actions. |  |
| These are clarified for each point period  |  |
| When a student does not make their day, this happens                             |  |
| A person's belief that others control the consequences of their actions          |  |
| These are used for interfering behaviors and must be administered properly       |  |
| This is used for repeated, severe, or serious behaviors                          |  |
| This should happen 6-7 times per day   |  |
| Students practice peaceful conflict resolution                                   |  |
| This is done on an individual rather than a group basis                          |  |
| This is not reasonable, not fair, and negatively affects student dignity         |  |

Copy onto a yellow sheet of paper and cut up:

| YELLOW SLIPS                    |  |  |
|---------------------------------|--|--|
| Rule and Expectations           |  |  |
| Recourse                        |  |  |
| Consequences                    |  |  |
| Points                          |  |  |
| Cueing                          |  |  |
| Zero                            |  |  |
| Internal locus of control       |  |  |
| Expectations                    |  |  |
| A daily communication goes home |  |  |
| External locus of control       |  |  |
| Steps                           |  |  |
| Automatic Step 4                |  |  |
| Points Periods                  |  |  |
| Concerns                        |  |  |
| Contracting                     |  |  |
| Punishment                      |  |  |

This is the Answer Sheet to the MYD Matching Game.

| BLUE SLIP  | YELLOW SLIP                     |
|--|---------------------------------|
| These are posted in every classroom  | Rule and Expectations           |
| A student's "due process"  | Recourse                        |
| These are fair, reasonable, predictable, and enforceable                         | Consequences                    |
| This is a time for students to self-assess                                       | Points                          |
| This takes away from learning time.  | Cueing                          |
| Each point period begins with this number of points                              | Zero                            |
| A person's belief that they have control over the consequences of their actions. | Internal locus of control       |
| These are clarified for each point period  | Expectations                    |
| When a student does not make their day, this happens                             | A daily communication goes home |
| A person's belief that others control the consequences of their actions          | External locus of control       |
| These are used for interfering behaviors and must be administered properly       | Steps                           |
| This is used for repeated, severe, or serious behaviors                          | Automatic Step 4                |
| This should happen 6-7 times per day   | Points Periods                  |
| Students practice peaceful conflict resolution                                   | Concerns                        |
| This is done on an individual rather than a group basis                          | Contracting                     |
| This is not reasonable, not fair, and negatively affects student dignity         | Punishment                      |